

I wanted to take this opportunity to voice my opinion regarding the proposed deregulation of media ownership. I believe this would be monumental mistake by the FCC and would limit the breadth of news coverage in America. It appears that the lack of public attention concerning this matter is aided by the lack of coverage by those very institutions that would see benefit from this deregulation. The media giants stand to gain great sums at the expense of diverse and accurate journalism. I believe that current regulation should be continued to ensure freedom from an Orwellian future.
